Volume XXX
Lanier Senior High School
Macon, Georgia

Tradition is a word representative of Lanier—its alumni and its students. Our Lanier predecessors, sparked by such slogans as "We Lead," "Go Poets," and "It Can Be Done," have built an enviable record of accomplishment in school, state and nation. We at Lanier, whether realizing it or not, are receiving one of the best preparations available for life. We are learning how to preserve and build tradition.

Everyone has his own set of memories, and it would be impossible to include them all. Therefore, the Annual attempts only to present the large events in hope that these will provide a means for recalling the more personal ones.

JIM CARSON

In the following pages you will find Lanier and its activities—from the very ordinary to the unusual, from the scholarly to the sportsmanlike—all rewarding.

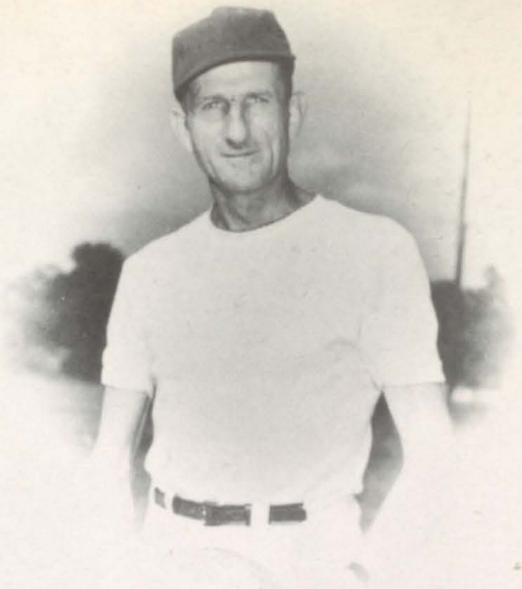
SELBY BUCK



LEM CLARK

The reputation of a school is built slowly, not instantaneously, and sports is one of the main ways through which it is achieved. Throughout Lanier's history its name has symbolized athletic and academic leadership. We, the senior class of 1961, deem it only fitting that we dedicate this annual to the memory of two of its outstanding coaches—Selby Buck and Lem Clark.

Selby Buck, a man respected and admired throughout Georgia for his athletic ability, left behind a coaching record surpassed or equaled by few. During his thirty years at Lanier, his teams won five state championships in football, two in baseball, and eleven in basketball. Twice he served as president of the Georgia High School Coaches Association. He was chosen Georgia Coach of the Year in 1948 and was among the first to be elected to the Georgia Prep Hall of Fame. In 1955 Coach Buck retired from the Lanier coaching scene because of poor health. Until his death in January, 1961, he headed the Bibb County Athletic Department, continually striving to improve sports facilities in the county public schools.

In 1931 a player coached by Buck came to Lanier to aid him. Lem Clark, after a successful high school and college career, returned to his Alma Mater to become assistant grid coach and head baseball coach, positions he held until 1940 and from 1946 to 1950. While at Lanier, he led his baseball teams to two official state championships and six unofficial ones. After the Korean Conflict and three years at Brunswick's Glynn Academy, Coach Clark resettled in Macon to begin his teaching duties at Lanier Junior High. Soon, however, he was forced to seek a leave of absence because of illness, an illness which ultimately resulted in death. Lemual Jay Clark, who radiated spirit and morale, was an asset to the school and to its boys.

Had it not been for the records that their teams made and the later accomplishments of the boys that they coached, Lanier would not be so well-known today. These two men, Selby Buck and Lem Clark, exemplify the Lanier Spirit—that of sportsmanship, honor, and achievement. They have left an intangible mark on this school that will be cherished by its student body for years to come.

This 1960-61 school annual is indeed a tribute to the ingenuity of its staff and advisors. The new arrangement of all pictures indicates initiative, imagination and skill, and the broad coverage of all school activities reveals careful thought and planning.

My pride in your achievement is now, yours will be on some distant tomorrow when, as you review these pages, you recall memories of friendship and school events dimmed by passing years but never entirely forgotten. Only then can you sing with Walt Whitman —

"Thanks in old age—thanks ere I go
For precious, everlingering memories."

26 Tapped In Beta Club Induction; Parents Attend

Twenty-four juniors and two seniors were inducted into the National Beta Club in ceremonies held on Friday, October 21. The sophomore class and mothers of the new members were invited to view the induction.

President Willie Burns explained that the Beta Club is open to high school students of outstanding character and achievement. Requirements for Lanierians are a yearly "A" average in each scholastic and at least twelve of a potential fourteen Citizenship points. The aim of the National Beta Club is to stimulate and inspire higher academic work and better citizenship.

The other officers for the 1960-61 school term explained the duties entrusted to them and the obligations which they accept as leaders. They are David Kalish, vice-president, Sid Middlebrooks, secretary, and Bill Tye, treasurer.

Burns Steers Five Councils For 1960-61

Willie Burns, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry K. Burns of 1620 Waverland Drive, was elected president of the Inter-City Student Council recently at a meeting held at Lanier Junior High.

Burns

The Council is composed of three members and one excutive officer from each of Macon's five high schools.

Others representing Lanier senior include Jim Bass, Lanier Student Council president along with Franklin Darnell and Benning Grice.

Burns, a senior at Lanier, will be assisted by vice-president Bobby Cass, Willingham High School; recording secretary Mitzi Howard, Miller Senior High; and Mary Jane Nicholson, McEvoy High School.

Other officers on the executive

Other members whose names were available are: Judy Miller, Miller Senior; Eloise Wilson and Judy Ferguson, Miller Junior, Lee Barfield; Lanier Junior; and Tommy Reid and Bobby Mathews, Willingham High School.

The next regularly scheduled meeting will be held at Lanier Senior High on November 18. According to Burns, major projects will be discussed for the 1960-61 school term.

The advisers for this year's annual are Miss Geraldine Jackson and Mrs. Poe Clark at Miller and Miss Mary Ella Clements and Mrs. Richard Mathews at Lanier.

Each of the Co-Editors-in-chief is responsible only for his or her school's portion of the yearbook. The staffs co-operate on things concerning both schools, the superlatives for example.

Many joint staff meetings decide such things as the cover, the kind of type, and the end sheets (the insides of the covers and the fly leaf).

Recently the advisers and several members of the staff attended a Yearbook Seminar at Mercer University. Cadet Lt. Colonel Grice acclaims the rather long session (9 A. M. to 3 P. M.) "very constructive."

Crowning Lynn Everett Qu[illegible] Climaxes Homecoming Ev[illegible]

By Steve Stephens
Poet Leader News Editor

Homecoming spirits reached a peak October 28, as Miss Lynn "Bogie" Everett was crowned Homecoming Queen before an audience of thousands, only to find all Lanier's hopes dashed as the Albany Indians went on the warpath to scalp the Poets 20-6 in the next two hours.

The Homecoming festivities had occupied a prominent position in Lanierians' activities for the preceding two weeks, introducing quite a hustle in the attempt to get everything ready. All turned out fine — except the game.

Sixteen seniors at Miller were sponsored for Homecoming Queen by Lanier clubs and their pic-

A crowd could be seen eyeing the girls every time classes changed, and trying to make a choice. You can be sure there was no one absent the day of the election, unless he was really sick. October 24 was a hectic day of trying to influence others to vote for your choice, and then keeping crossed fingers to insure her becoming a finalist, announced the next morning. October 25 was a day of jubilation and disappointment, of speculation and hope.

The six finalists were announced in alphabetical order, to avoid any semblance of favoritism.

Here we see assistant varsity coaches, Mr. Elton Wall and Mr. Jim Nolan with our co-captain, Bunny Richardson and our captain, Jimmy Seward. Because of their fine play, both Richardson and Seward received All-State honors, with Seward going on to receive All-Southern and All-American recognition. Congratulations, Bunny and Jimmy, for a job well done.

A. L. MILLER SENIOR HIGH FOR GIRLS

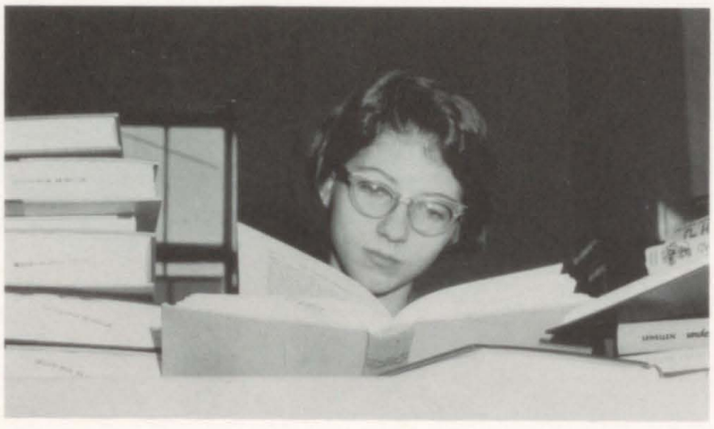
And this is Miller . . .



. . . not a building of glass and stone, but nine hundred seventy-five girls. This is the Miller where tradition and culture constantly fight the crazes and fads of the younger generation, this is the Miller familiar to all, and this is the Miller we, the staff of the 1960-61 MILLER-LANIER, have portrayed in this, your annual.

Yes, Miller is girls . . . girls overjoyed at the Beta Assembly when the new members were tapped . . . girls buried under avalanches of books . . . girls laboring over test tubes, foreign accents, and typewriters . . . girls squealing and laughing as they make good use of the GEA holiday by going to the fair . . . girls studying in classrooms, in halls, on the steps, and in cars . . . girls sketching on the campus in the crisp autumn weather . . . girls filled with youthful exuberance, reveling at the Sock-Hop . . . girls excited but envious as sponsors are chosen and buttons appear . . . girls loyal and true, entering into school projects and activities with cheerful enthusiasm

To show Miller completely would be an impossible task. It would take an immeasurable amount of time, space, and copy. But here, between the covers of the MILLER-LANIER, we, the staff, have attempted to present Miller as we saw it during the year 1960-61.

And this is Miller . . .

And this is one whom we love

For again Miller girls have dedicated their annual to you, Miss Lucile Carswell. A proof of all that you have meant to those seniors, fortunate to have known you in class work or in activities inside and outside the school.

We learned from you things of worth-while value — the study of English as a tool and a source of pleasure and enrichment. In you we have admired that sincere interest and concern you have for people. In you we have seen the meaning and depth of true friendship. From you we have learned the importance of being ourselves and developing ourselves to the fullest. We have seen the endless love and enthusiasm you have for your work, your church, your friends, your family, and your hobbies.

And so, we the class of 1961, have appreciated and grown to love in you the qualities and characteristics as have so many of your other students. We have honored you by dedicating this book to you, Miss Carswell!

And One whom we shall always remember–

To Mr. H. S. Lasseter, principal, Miller means "his girls." He was a teacher at Lanier High School, but when the new school for girls was completed in 1931, he became her first — and has been her only —principal. He taught many of the teachers now on his faculty and because of him—his teachings and his principles—and his faculty, the school has kept her traditions, record, and reputation set years ago. Her graduates have done well in college and in business and in their many varied professions; in every field they have brought honors to their school. They have learned well from lessons, teachings, and ideals given them at Miller, Macon's oldest senior high school for girls.

And those who

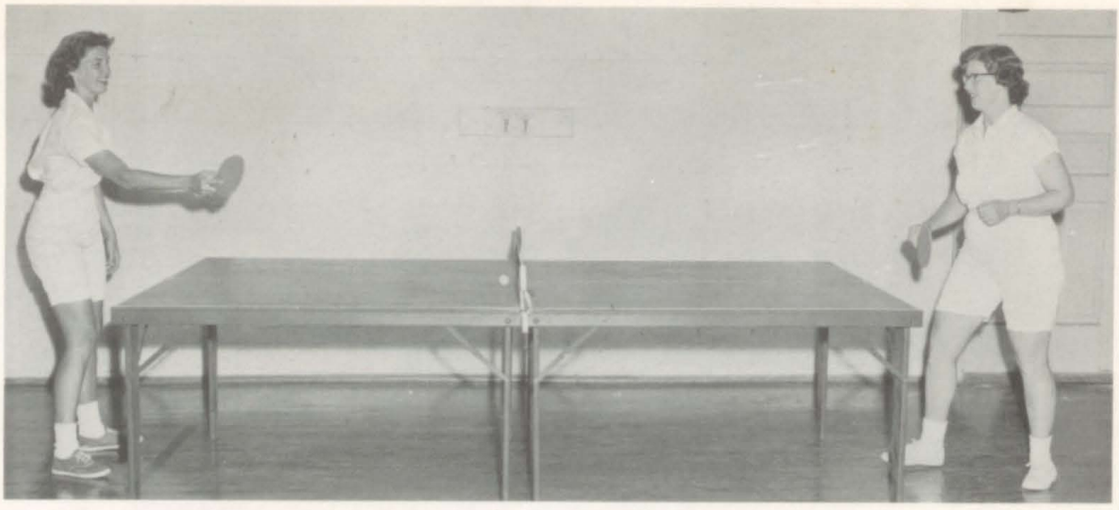
Mrs. Julia Carver, Mrs. Lucille London, and Mrs. Jean Wilson enjoy the use of "George" in the science department.

Miss Addie Funderburke, Miss Lucile Carswell, and Mrs. Ann Holmes teach Senior English, while Miss Yonah Hurt, Miss Catherine Jones, Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, and Miss Mary Alfriend have Sophomores and Juniors.

Mrs. Elizabeth Poe Clark, Mrs. Sue Moss, and Miss Geraldine Jackson tell us all about Latin, French, and Spanish.

Mrs. Jacque James, guidance counselor, helps a Millerite with a problem.

have provided



Mrs. Deanne Lister and Miss Rosalyn Hardin are the gym instructors.

the knowledge of yesterday

Mrs. Charlene Williams and Miss Willie Mae Little teach algebra in the math department.

Miss Dorothy Simmons instructs in geometry.

Mrs. Anna Rogero, Mrs. J. C. Bynum, and Mrs. Amy Olmstead supervise the lunchroom.

And the inspiration

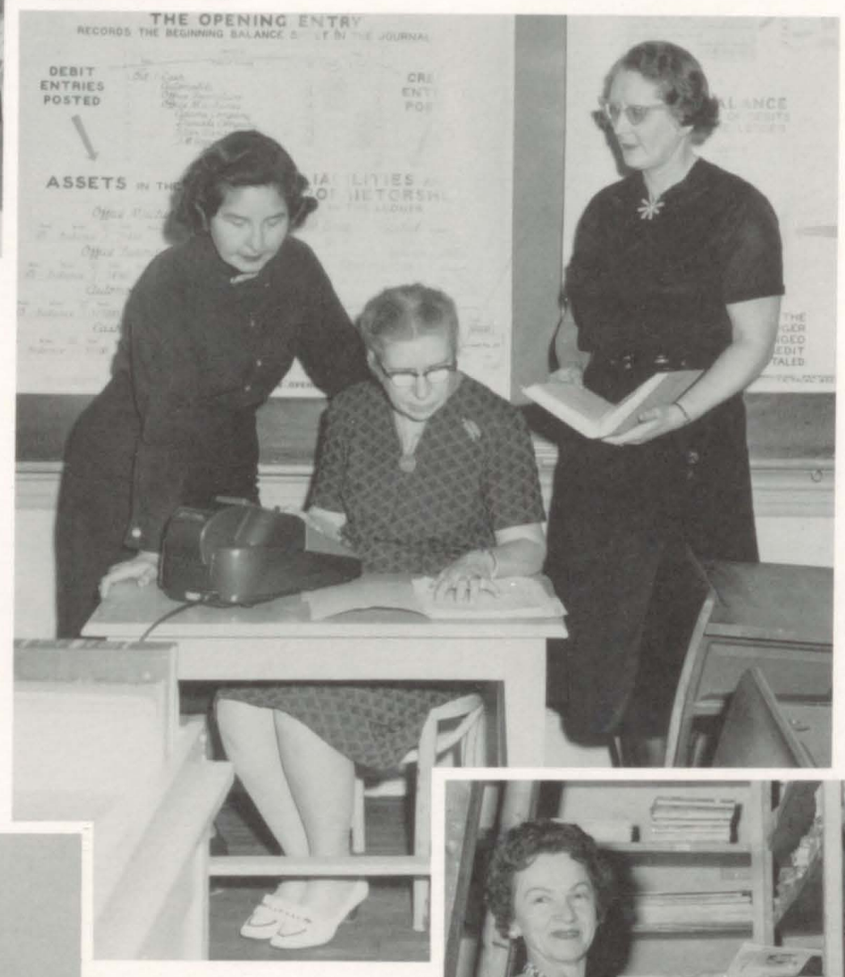
Mrs. Frances Brubaker, Miss Florence Blair, and Mrs. Margie Perry teach social studies, while Miss Mary Holmes, Miss Ann Henry, and Mrs. Betty Stewart teach American history.

Mrs. Lena Pendergrass and Mrs. Katherine Ross are our home economics teachers.

Mrs. Ida Brown helps and encourages our artists-to-be.

Miss Emily Orr is Miller's secretary.

Mrs. Nina Laster, Mrs. Mary Pellew and Miss Ann Culverhouse make typists and stenographers out of our students with the help of Mrs. Lois Willingham. Mrs. Margaret Elkins and Miss Agnes Pittman work with our future bookkeepers.



for tomorrow

Mrs. Clevie Johnson leads the chorus.

Mrs. Dorothy Watson is the librarian.

CLASS of '61–FULL of FUN

Every girl dreams of being a senior—and every girl looks forward to senior privileges and honors. The seniors of '61 honored Curry by electing her as president, Dale as vice-president, and Ginny as secretary-treasurer.

These directors—Lynda, Judy, Regina, Mary Anne, and Phyllis — have really worked with the officers in selecting invitations and rings, in planning class meetings, and in encouraging class spirit and competition.

Everybody was delighted when Mrs. Moss and Miss Carswell accepted and became sponsors for the seniors of '61!

Mrs. Clark, advisor, and Rosemary Lawson search for new ideas in old annuals.

Miss Jackson, advisor, is giving Latane Nelms instructions on how to maneuver the unpredictable scaleograph.

These are they who have racked their brains — and cabinets — for ideas! They finally mastered the intricacies of the scaleograph, who have written and re-written copy, cropped pictures, met deadlines — and eaten!

Lynda Whitley and Susan Slocumb mull over the pictures and sort out the ones to be used in the Annual.

These are those on the Editorial Staff of the ANNUAL.

June Thornton, Editor, plans a perspective layout of the Annual.

"You, little pink, move up by little red," are the very familiar words of our invaluable photographer, Bill Meriwether.

Aiding the senior staff this year were Kay Cowan and Kay Smith.

. . . And these are they who conducted the business of this book. They sold—not only to business men, but annuals to Miller Girls. These are a vital part of . . . the ANNUAL STAFF.

Ann Warlick, business manager; Miss Catherine Jones, advisor; Kay Baker, and Carol Smith helped make this annual possible.

What would we have done without our typists, Patti Schrimshire and Patricia Jones!

These girls are preparing themselves for the medical professions by their work in the FUTURE NURSES CLUB.

These prepare for the teaching profession as members of the FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA.

The DRAMATICS CLUB, led by Jane McLendon, president, and Marianne Murchison, vice-president, has presented us with many short plays during this year.

These are the THESPIANS, an honored group of the DRAMATICS CLUB.

Here are the Miller Radio Announcers—Betty Beatty, Sandra Rorex, Linda Holloway, Annette Fields, and Stevie Stephens from Lanier—informing the listeners of Miller-Lanier activities.

These are our hard-working Senior BETAS.

Those who serve as BETA officers are Ginny Whitener, president; Gail Rogers, vice-president and Miss Dorothy Simmons, advisor.

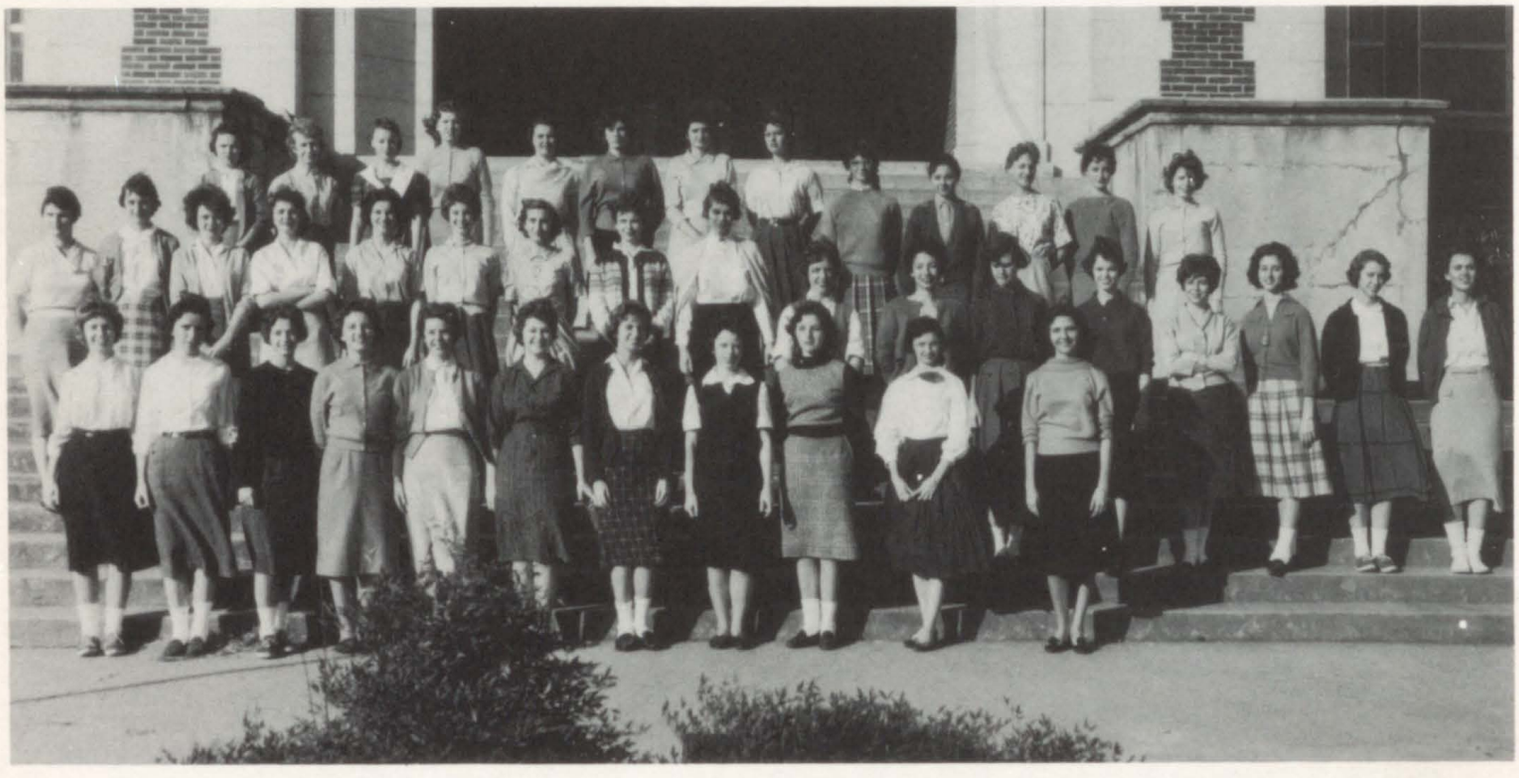
These acted as hostesses at Open House.

What a surprise when Lynn was tapped for Beta!

The Beta booth attracted much attention at the Student Council Carnival.

These are our young, aspiring Junior BETAS.

These well deserve their place in the JUNIOR HONOR GROUP.



These wind-blown SENIORS recall the untold number of hours they spent in order to be in the HONOR GROUP.

Lynda Whitley, president, and Connie Hardeman, vice-president, lead in preparing the disaster kits for RED CROSS.

Does he really believe in the fortune teller? Some did at the RED CROSS booth.

The Y-TEENS enjoy themselves while helping others.

Our STUDENT COUNCIL officers, Dot Bell, president, Alexis Schuyler, vice-president, and Judy Miller, secretary, lead Miller girls in all school projects.

These are representatives of the supervisions taking notes to make reports to their supervisions.

"Sorry, we don't have it."

STUDENT COUNCIL sponsors many projects including Lost and Found, parking permits and the Halloween Carnival.

"You found it! Thank goodness."

Too bad, you forgot to get your permit.

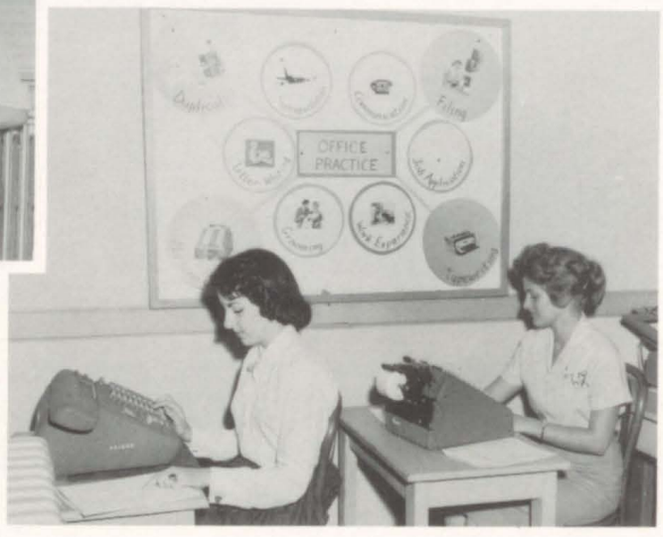
Halloween Carnival tickets, 50c—not too bad.

What would we do without our aides on assembly days?

Sculpture, interior decorating, fashion and mosaics readily lend themselves in providing interesting and varied programs for the ART CLUB.

With so many good subjects available, it's hard for Carolyn Adams, president, Rosemary Lawson, vice-president, and the other officers to decide which to use at the next meeting.

Becky Sapp, president, and Jackie Chapman, vice-president, guide the members of M.B.B.C. in creating a bridge between school and the business world.

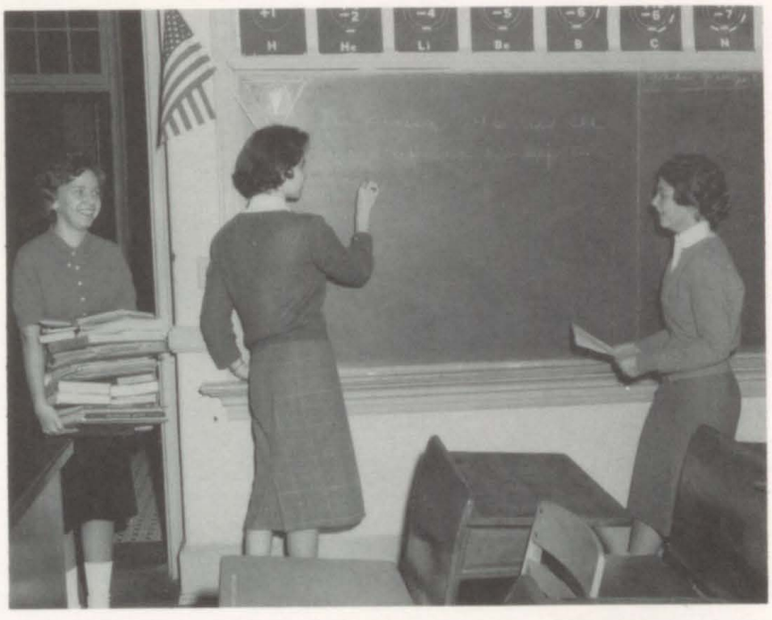


Practice makes perfect!

LIBRARY CLUB members listen attentively as Carol Thomas, treasurer, gives her report.

TRI-HI-Y continues "To create, maintain, and extend throughout the home, school, and community high standards of Christian character."

What a beautiful Thanksgiving bulletin board the TRI-HI-Y officers, Gail Rogers, president, Regina Ennis, vice-president, and the others helped make!



TRI-HI-Y gives us a motto every morning to help us through the day.

These girls manage Miller's BOOK STORE.

A good way to save—with Bonnie and Betty.

Don't just stand there—do SOMETHING!

Open the window. It's stuffy in here!

As 4-H members, these girls strive "To make the best better."

Dale Di Antonio congratulates Beverly Hawthorne on winning second place at the Georgia State Fair.

"Yipe! How did I get into this?"

Looking "Toward New Horizons," these FUTURE HOMEMAKERS prepare for the life ahead.

Under the leadership of Connie Adams, president, MAA sponsors the tournaments and other athletic projects at Miller.

"Careful! those balls hurt!"

As members of CHEMISTRY CLUB, these girls learn more about the world in which they live.

Penny Dollar, president, and Martha McDonald, vice-president, enjoy encouraging Millerites in the appreciation of music.

The Seniors, Juniors, and Sophomores thrill to the MUSIC CLUB programs that have featured the "Sherwood Five," an accomplished ballerina and many others.

Work was play at the Student Council Carnival. Were those apples as good as they looked?

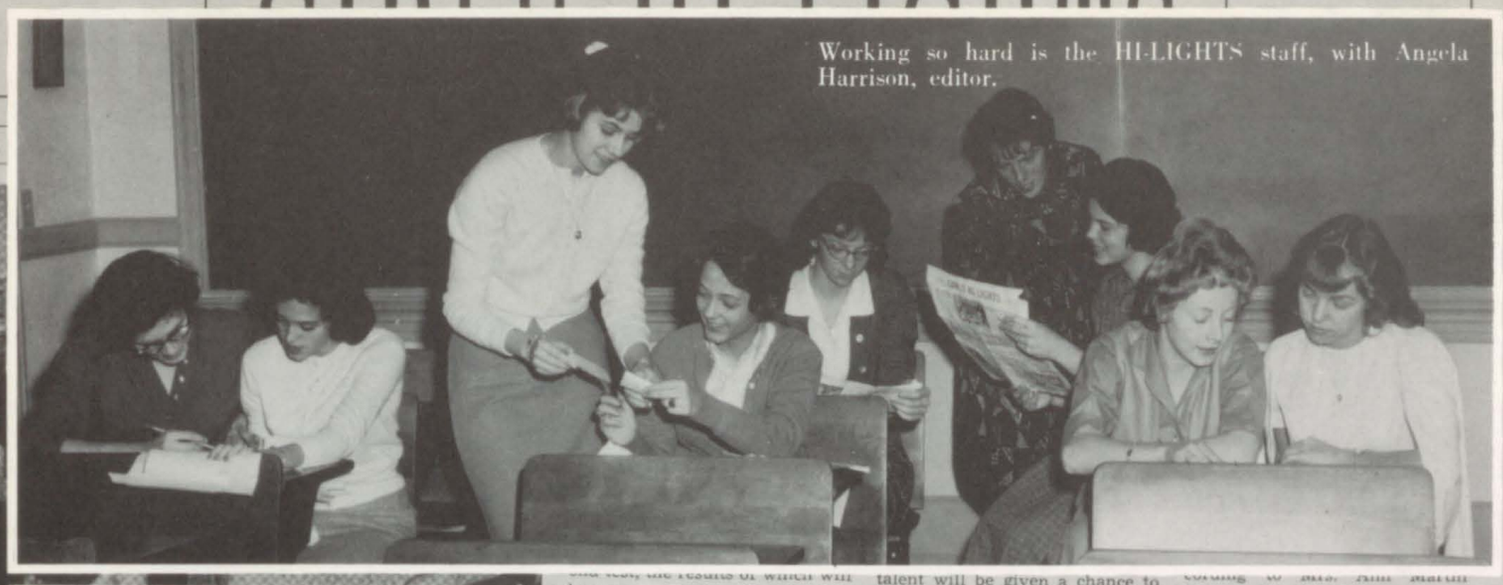
From Catherine the Shrew to Cleopatra, "Shakespeare's Ladies" was quite a play.

"Sounding Brass" conveyed a subtle message with its sombre tones and clanging cymbals. The two plays were presented by the Senior class.

This was "A Night to Remember" for Lynn Everett, Homecoming Queen, and her court.

This is Miller's BEST CITIZEN, Curry Harison, with Judy Miller and Dot Bell, runners-up.

This year Miller participated in the STUDENT TEACHER ACHIEVEMENT RECOGNITION program. Here are "the S.T.A.R.S!" Lynda Whitley, Miller's highest scorer on the College Board Examination, chose Miss Katheryn Richardson as her favorite teacher.



Working so hard is the HI-LIGHTS staff, with Angela Harrison, editor.

Here are the "top ten"—ad solicitors for the HI-LIGHTS, that is.

201 Wins Again

Mrs. Brubaker's supervision 201 walked away with the Hi-Lights' subscription drive championship by being 100 per cent the first day.

This supervision has been a first place winner every year since 1951. Other 100 per cent supervisions were 206 and 106.

The senior class had 59 per cent to subscribe; sophomores, 50; and juniors 41.

Carol Green and Mabrey Holloway sold the most ads and Ann Champion and Nita Irwin were next. All winners will get a year's subscription to "Seventeen" magazine.

A prize of $10 will go to the seniors, while all 100 per cent supervisions will receive a rock garden.

cording to Mrs. Ann Martin Holmes, English teacher and director of the play, because it carries lines of Shakespeare that are written in a modern tone.

"Sounding Brass," the second play, is in direct contrast with "When Shakespeare's Ladies Meet," said Mrs. Holmes, because it is highly dramatic and very serious.

This play, which is set in medieval times and which takes place during the Christmas season, is the story of the strong jealousy between two brothers, one a rich man and the other a priest, who is well-loved by the people.

"Sounding Brass" is based on the scripture from Matthew which refers to "sounding brass and a tinkling cymbal."

Many seniors will be given a chance to participate in the plays because of the large cast which is required.

The dates for tryouts will be announced around the middle of October, according to Mrs. Holmes.

Ann hands out the result of long hours of hard work to the rest of the HI-LIGHTS business staff.

Mrs. Laster's son, Lynn, graduated from Lanier in 1953. He went to Auburn University and did graduate work at Georgia Tech. He is an aeronautical engineer in the Air Force.

Mrs. Laster said that she and her husband were always interested in young people, and she added, with her eyes showing her happiness, that she was enjoying teaching at Miller.

These — our guidance monitors — were such a help to Mrs. James.

Going from Miller Senior to Miller Junior for practice are these Miller girls who played in MILLER'S BAND.

Nature inspires the practice of these girls of the Miller orchestra.
